Eating in class?

Some students think it's a bad idea to eat in class because insects can come .

also when students eat gum they stick them on the tables so they don't throw in the trash

Lately teachers have been realizing and warning students not to eat gum or other foods in class because they can make a mess in the classroom or can be a little dangerous for some students with allergies.

Last year a student had an allergy because of some food on the floor and felt very bad. If we want to avoid that from happening it is better to avoid eating in class, and it is also not allowed to eat gum because they can make a mess and stick to tables, walls or shoes and the teachers can't remove because it is difficult and clingy.
