Kids Movies are better than Marvel Movies

Is it just me or are Marvel movies overrated? I mean come on they are basically only for superher lovers while on the other hand kids movies are made for everyone to enjoy. Marvel movies could also be very violent while kids movies will keep people calm and entertained. A lot of kids movies also give a lot of great life lessons to the people that watch them. I mean don't get me wrong Marvel movies also have good lessons but kid movies have better one since they try to teach kids at a young age. It can also teach adults some lessons as well.
